CRUISER STRIKES ON A ROCK AND HOLES ARE TORN IN HER HULL

Navy Department Rushes Tugs to the Yankee Fast Aground in Bad Spot Near Buzzard's Bay, With One Compartment Full of Water.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 23.—The cruiser Yankee is aground on Spindle Rock, near Buzzard's Bay, and despite reassuring reports that she has been received by wireless it is feared she is badly damaged. The sea is calm and there is little wind, but the signs portend an approaching storm and the naval tug Chickasaw and the torpedo boat Morris are being made ready at the torpedo station here to go to her assistance. The collier Nero and two tugs are already on their way from the New York Navy Yard to render assistance.

A wireless despatch received at noon from the Yankee stated that there were several holes in the port side of the vessel forward and that nine frames were broken, all in one compartment. The damaged section is about eight feet up from the keel and about thirty-six feet in length. There are also several holes in the bottom. The cruiser's steam pumps, however, which have been in operation constantly, are reported to be keeping the ship comparatively free.

The Yankee left Outback last night for this port to take on coal. In the early morning hours she ran into one of the thickest fogs of the season. She was close to the shore at the time and before she could be navigated out of danger collided with Spindle Rock, which is near Hen and Chicken Reef, and stuck there.

Reports of the accident were sent immediately to the torpedo station in Newport Harbor and to New Bedford. The submarine tender Nina was despatched from the latter port to the assistance of the Yankee.

Water in Compartment.

A wireless message sent to Capt. C. C. Marsh, commander of the Yankee, asking if he required assistance from here, brought the reply that although one of the forward compartments was full of water the ship would float at the next tide.

Spindle Rock, where the Yankee is aground, is to the northward of Hen and Chicken Lightship at the entrance of Buzzard's Bay. The vicinity is spotted with dangerous ledges and the spot is marked as one of the worst on the coast. A big storm would result disastrously to the stranded vessel.

The fog remains very thick off shore all along this coast. If the Yankee is not floated by night it can be figured that she is in bad way.

The Yankee is a converted cruiser of 6,225 tons. She is 324 feet long, has a mean draught of 21 feet and carries a crew of 190 men. After coaling here, she was to have taken part in the big torpedo boat and submarine maneuvers off Newport harbor.

Capt. Marsh is a son-in-law of Rear Admiral Evans. He is a careful resourceful commander.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The place where the cruiser Yankee went ashore is to the northward of Hen and Chicken Lightship at the entrance of Buzzard's Bay. The information regarding the accident came to the Navy Department in a wireless telegraph despatch sent by Capt. C. C. Marsh, her commander, by way of Newport. There were numerous rocks in the locality which may make the situation of the vessel very dangerous. One of the forward compartments is full of water.

The Yankee is the parent ship of the Atlantic torpedo fleet, comprising probably a dozen vessels. Capt. Marsh is a son-in-law of Admiral Robley D. Evans. The vessel is a converted cruiser of 6,225 tons, is 324 feet long, and has a mean draught of 21 feet. Her crew is made up of 190 men. Collier Nero and two tugs from the New York navy yard have been sent to assist in the relief of the vessel.

WOMAN A SUICIDE IN THE FALLS OF NIAGARA.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 23.—A middle-aged woman walked into the river at Green Island just before noon to-day and was quickly swept out of sight and over the falls. She left on the bank her hat, a purse containing a handkerchief and a spectacle case bearing the mark of a Buffalo firm of opticians, and a pair of gloves.

LEAPS SIXTY FEET OFF MAURETANIA; TWO MEN FOLLOW

Attempted Suicide and Gal- lant Rescue Witnessed by Passengers on Liner.

Just as the "all ashore" signal was sounded on the Mauretania at the Cunard Line pier this afternoon, passengers on the dock and their friends swarming to the end of the pier were treated to a thrilling attempt at suicide and as thrilling a rescue.

The would-be suicide gave the name of George Olden, of No. 27 Broadway, after he was pulled from the water. He said he was a bartender, and his condition indicated that he had been combining indulgence and business.

Olden plunged into the North River from the upper promenade deck, a matter of 60 feet. He turned over in the air like a lay figure, landed feet first, and went out of sight. The splash he made had not subsided when into the water after him dived Patrick Halligan, of Liverpool, one of the Mauretania's firemen.

Halligan jumped from the upper deck and travelled 45 feet before he struck the water. After Halligan went Francis Murphy, a sailor, who descended from the main deck by means of a rope, one end of which he had made fast to the rail.

Halligan landed within two feet of where Olden went down, and caught him as he came up. There was no resistance in the bartender, but plenty of salt water. Halligan swam with him to Murphy, and together they made him float on the dangling end of the line, which the sailor had used in his descent.

A launch happened to be nearby, and the three men were taken aboard and rushed to the end of the pier. There Police Officer McCabe arrested Olden on a charge of attempted suicide. He was taken to the Charles Street Station.

Halligan and Murphy, dripping and shivering, rushed aboard the Mauretania, just as the lines were being cast. The passengers and other spectators gave them three cheers, and it is likely that they will receive a more substantial reward when the big ship reaches Liverpool.

Olden was scarcely intelligible when he reached the station-house, but he had sustained no physical hurt. He denied that he had jumped overboard. He said he had gone aboard the ship to bid farewell to his brother, a second cabin passenger, and had stepped off into the river thinking he was stepping onto the dock.

TRANCE EQUALS TRACK RECORD IN FEATURE RACE

Fast Filly Beats Fitzherbert in the Holly Handicap at Gravesend.

GRAVESEND RESULTS.

FIRST RACE—Witching Hour, 1, George W. Lebolt, 2, Ragman, 3.

SECOND RACE—Waterspeed, 1; Mark Gumbert, 2; Sandy Creeker, 3.

THIRD RACE—Animus, 1, Killcrankie, 2, Castlewood, 3.

FOURTH RACE—Trance, 1, Fitzherbert, 2, Hilaricus, 3.

FIFTH RACE—Danoscra, 1, Brookdale Nymph, 2, Tiling, 3.

SIXTH RACE—Queen Marguerite, 1, Ida D. 2, Biskra, 3.

BY VINCENT TREANOR.

(Special to The Evening World.)

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, Sept. 23.—Trance, in winning the Holly Handicap feature of to-day's card, equaled the track record, 1:06 1/5, made by Fashion Plate, with 109 pounds up, on Sept. 14. Trance's performance was much better, considering that she carried 118 pounds.

Fitzherbert, the one thought to have a chance of beating Trance, was slow to break and Trance went right to the front and opened a gap in the first eighth. Fitzherbert was lost. Trance went right on in her old time fashion and never was in trouble.

Fitzherbert made up ground under the whip from the head of the stretch home and at the end was second. He passed Bon Homme and Hilaricus very easily but never threatened the winner.

Witching Hour Wins.

It was said at the track that Little Smith, who got a bad fall from Miriam in the third race yesterday, is doing well at the Coney Island Reception Hospital. There is a chance, a small one, however, that he will recover.

The first race of the day went to Hitchcock's Witching Hour. He didn't stop nor swerve to-day. Shilling got him off in front, opened up a gap of a couple of lengths in the run to the stretch and maintained this advantage to the end. George W. Lebolt, formerly Voodoo, ran second all the way and finished there by a comfortable margin in front of Ragman.

Waterspeed Wins Chase.

Waterspeed, ridden by McKinley, repeated in the steeplechase, but he had to race every step of the way. He was under a wild drive in the stretch to stall of Mark Gumbert of the Widener estate. They had the race between them during the last turn of the field. Sandy Creeker, after making a little of the early pace, dropped out of it only to come again and beat Callier out of third money.

Animus in a Breeze.

Black Oak, after threatening to make a runaway race of the third, quit very badly when well into the stretch and finished in the money. Animus, carefully ridden by Shilling, was under restraint all the way to the stretch and then he broke and ran like a wild horse. Danoscra won like a real race horse in the fifth race.

After cutting Brookdale Nymph off going to the back stretch she went to the front and stayed there all the way. Tiling ran second to the stretch and then stopped badly under the whip. Brookdale Nymph, third turning into the stretch, closed fast, but couldn't catch Danoscra. Gilbert, who rode the Whitney mare, was applauded as he went up into the stewards' stand to claim foul. The stewards didn't allow the claim, and there were more hand-claps from the crowd.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BALL PARK, CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—Chesbro and Dusty Rhodes opposed each other in the last game of the present series, and the big crowd expressed fear that the hero of Knox City would fall to repeat his last performance when he doused Boston without a hit.

McIlveen was presented with a beautiful floral horseshoe from the Akron fans as he went to the bat and reached first when Perring fumbled his slow bouncer. Conroy sacrificed, Stovall to Lajoie. Birmingham took Cree's pop. Lajoie doubled to left, scoring McIlveen. Gardner out, Bemis to Stovall. ONE RUN.

An immense floral horseshoe was presented to Goode by Akronites, and he signalled to Chesbro's first effort. Bradley sacrificed to Moriarty, unassisted. Hinchman out, Ball to Moriarty. Goode reaching third, Lajoie hit by pitched ball. Lajoie and Goode pulled off a perfect double steal. Stovall was easy, Ball to Moriarty. ONE RUN.

Second Inning.

Bradley tossed to Moriarty. Ball lifted to Goode. Klesnow bounced to Stovall. NO RUNS.

WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, Sept. 23.—The Pirates were not so lucky when they lined up against the Trolley Dodgers for the second game of their series this afternoon. The eleven inning battle which the Donovans gave them yesterday had Manager Clarke and his men worried, and they are not so certain now of beating the locals in all three games. Wilhelm was sent in to do the pitching for the team, and his absence was a hard blow to the fans. Merkle his successor, is a marvellous performer, but he lacks Tenney's experience.

First Inning.

Thomas opened the game by bashing a grounder to McMillan, who threw him out at first. McMillan kept up his good work by running back of second base and snatching Clarke's apparently safe hit, shot the ball to Jordan just in time to dispose of the Pirates' first fielder. Leach patted a fly to short right field, which Clarke smothered. Lumley could not find Liefield's benders in three false alarm swings. Hummel also gave an exhibition of club swinging at the fast ones tossed up by Liefield. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Lumley ran out to the right-field fence and snatched Wagner's long fly. Abby was called out on strikes. Storke smashed out a low-line fly to centre, which Hummel grabbed. NO RUNS.

Jordan patted a grounder straight to catcher. Littered one to short left, which Clarke smothered. Lumley could not find Liefield's benders in three false alarm swings. Hummel also gave an exhibition of club swinging at the fast ones tossed up by Liefield. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Chance sailed a single through Matty's legs, but was forced out at second by Tinker. Matty tossed out Chance, Schulte going all the way to third on the fly. Steinfield struck out. A great running catch of Seymour's line drive to left. Devlin smashed a long single over short. Evers then made the most marvellous one-hand catch of McCormick's liner ever seen on the Polo Grounds. It looked so much like a single that Devlin went out in the same way. Evers tossed out Bridwell on a hot grounder. Tinker could get back to Chance. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Evers shot a single through Matty's legs, but was forced out at second by Tinker. Matty tossed out Chance, Schulte going all the way to third on the fly. Steinfield struck out. A great running catch of Seymour's line drive to left. Devlin smashed a long single over short. Evers then made the most marvellous one-hand catch of McCormick's liner ever seen on the Polo Grounds. It looked so much like a single that Devlin went out in the same way. Evers tossed out Bridwell on a hot grounder. Tinker could get back to Chance. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Bridwell tossed out Hoffman, Tinker, the old hero of the Giants, then batted up with a home run smash to the centre field ropes. Kling rolled out to Merkle, unassisted. Pfeister struck out. ONE RUN.

Evers threw out Merkle. Bridwell went out in the same way. Evers making another beautiful stop. Matty (Continued on Second Page.)

Chance Protests to Umpire Because Batter Failed to Run the Bases, but Emslie Answers With a Grin.

CROWD SWARMS FIELD AND CUB STARTS A FIGHT.

Police Rush to the Scene and Scatter Fans Before Chicago Players Are Roughly Handled—Umpire Makes a Statement.

BY ROZEMAN BULGER.

POLO GROUNDS, Sept. 23.—The conclusion of to-day's game, in which the Giants beat the Cubs by a score of 2 to 1, was followed by a wild riot, the like of which has never been seen on the Polo Grounds. With a runner on third and first, Bridwell hit a single into centre. McCormick scored, and the players made a rush for the clubhouse. The crowd started to rush on the field, and then the Chicago players were seen to make a wild scramble for second base with the ball in their midst. The New York players then turned back and attempted to take the ball by force. The crowd in the mean time had surged over the field and surrounded the umpires.

Thinking a riot had started a squad of police got around the umpire and Manager Chance, who was making some kind of protest, and fought the crowd back. The crowd grew larger and the cops' task grew more difficult, but by hard fighting the officials were finally gotten to their headquarters. Then it developed that Chicago had made the most astute kick ever heard of on the diamond. They claimed that Bridwell had not run out his hit after McCormick had scored, notwithstanding the fact that half of the Chicago team left the field when the ball was hit.

Umpire O'Day and Emslie refused to listen to the protest. The hit was clean and the victory won on straight baseball. The Chicago players then claimed that Merkle, who was on first, did not go to second. The crowd, which had swarmed on the field, didn't understand what the trouble was all about, and instead of desiring to cause trouble they were running around like a lot of wild lunatics, trying to get information. Notwithstanding Chicago's effort to get away with such an unheard-of trick, they never got the ball.

In the melee McGinnity dashed in and picked up the ball and threw it away. Moran, of Chicago, got in an argument with several fans and in the excitement struck one of them. The police had to hustle to his assistance, but nobody was seriously hurt.

Umpire O'Day made the following statement:

"Bridwell was safe at first and McCormick had scored beforehand. That makes the run count, regardless of any other action on the part of the Chicago or New York players, and New York won the game."

It seems that Chicago made a similar protest over a game in Pittsburgh three weeks ago, but the National Commission threw it out as a childish kick.

Fred Tenney the Giants' great first baseman, was unable to play to-day. His legs have been bothering him for some time. He was a stalwart pillar on the team, and his absence was a hard blow to the fans. Merkle his successor, is a marvellous performer, but he lacks Tenney's experience.

First Inning.

Hayden was quickly disposed of when he popped the first ball pitched to Herzog. Evers hit the dust on a high foul to Merkle. Schulte struck out, while the crowd whooped with glee. NO RUNS.

Herzog outgassed Pfeister for a base on balls. Bresnahan popped an easy fly to Tinker. Donlin fired to Hayden and on a bad return to first Herzog wet to second. Tinker tossed out Seymour. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Chance sailed a hot single into left and went to second on Steinfield's sacrifice to Merkle, unassisted. Hoffman lifted a high foul which Bresnahan got under after a quick run. Merkle made a headlong dive and speared Tinker's nasty little liner two inches from the ground. NO RUNS.

Tinker ran into the field and pulled down Devlin's short fly. McCormick
